Personal Profile:

I work with children, adolescents and young adults who may be facing emotional , social and behavioral difficulties. My work is client centered, thereby letting the client take the session where they need. I truly believe that play is the language of children, and through play therapy sessions we are able to learn new skills, discover parts of ourselves , get new insights and process the difficult emotions. At times I also incorporate play based activities with adults if we find it may suit their needs
