Personal Profile:

I have recently completed my Masters in Psychology. My dissertation topic was based on exploring the feasibility of using play as a medium in therapy with adults. That is how I got exposed to the field of play therapy. I followed this up by enrolling for a training course offered by the National Association for Play Therapy, India. I intend to implement the skills and principles I am learning through this program to work with children of all ages. I am deeply aware of the benefits that play has to offer, and I wish to use these insights to help children fulfil their potential.
